KLAES BUSINESS WEBSERVER

And everything is under your control!

Just imagine that your employees who work outside the company will receive all important information to business partners, articles, projects and documents they need for their daily work around the clock and from anywhere in the world. They will no longer depend on business times of your Company to get the necessary information.

You wonder how that works? It's simple: With the Klaes Business Webserver and an internet connection!

With the necessary rights your employees will log-into the Business Webserver and can, for example, receive an insight into the open items of a business partner.

It can be that simple: Time-consuming calls in the Company and possibly associated waiting times because a particular employee is not available, will not apply.
